High quality complete grower feed for young calves

- Products are highly palatable to improve intake.
- Products have a high natural protein content and are urea free. Urea is not beneficial for development of young calves.
- Formulated according to the calves' amino acid requirements.
- Contains stock remedies for improved feed conversion rate and health.

FEEDING INSTRUCTIONS

1. Feed to calves from one week until 8 months of age. See Recommended Intake table.
2. There is no general recipe for calves under all conditions.
3. Ensure calves perform optimally according to a heifer growth curve.
4. The intake of the complete calf ration must be managed continuously according to the calves' growth rate on a heifer growth curve.

FEEDING RECOMMENDATIONS

- When the supplement is changed, calves need to be adapted to the new feed.
- Clean, fresh drinking water must be available at all times.
- Calves must have access to shade. Heat stress will have a negative effect on the calves' growth performance.
- The type and quality of roughage has a major influence on the quantity of concentrates that calves should receive daily.
- Feeding cost per kilogram live weight gain is a more accurate criteria than cost per ton of energy concentrate for evaluation of calf rearing costs.
- Feed intake must be monitored on a daily basis.
- Store in a cool, dry place, away from direct sunlight.
- Contact an AFGRI Animal Feeds Technical Advisor for feeding recommendations and calf rearing programs.
